NEWS FROM HOME.

The campaign arranged by the National Service Loague was opened at Bristol by Lord Roberts, who claimed that the question they were considering was far above the interests of party." The first object of the League was to secure the safety of these islands and the maintainance of this great Empire. Peace, not war, was his aim and carnest desire. He wanted young men to realise their importance and

The Field-Marshal described the Territorial system as full of inequalities, unfair, insufficient and inadequate. The League proposed to substitute for it a system which was truly democratic, and in which every citizen of these islands, high and low, rich and poor, would have: equal rights and equal responsibilities. The League proposed that all men should start in military training on equal torms. and that promotion should be from the runks by merit and suitability, and not ly reason by any man's social status.

responsibility as part of the nation and

A resolution calling upon the Government to complete the scheme of the Territorial force by the adoption of personal ervice was carried with tremendous enhusiasm.

Aithough Lord Roberts claims that the question is above party, yet, it looks like becoming a party question. In the House of Lords last week Lord Methuen stated that the National Service League had undoubtedly done great harm to the recruiting of the Territorial force and this is at opinion widely shared. Colonel Seely has outlined a scheme whereby old Volun teers can join the National Defence Force, and in time of stress the mem bers would return to their original unit. The Minister for War guarantees that equipment will be ready for them. This scheme may help to put the Territorial force on a sounder basis and it will be the Liberal contribution to the plan of national defence. Universal service savours too much of "conscription" for which the country is by no means ready.

ANGLO-GERMAN EXHIBITION.

It is proposed to hold an Anglo-German Exhibition at the Crystal Palace to celebrate the 25th anniversary of the Kaiser's accession to the throne, and the arrangements are in a forward state. "The date of the anniversary is June 15th, but the idea of the promoters-the Duke Argyll, the Earl of Lonsdale, the Earl of Plymouth, and Sir Albert Rollit-is to open the exhibition in May. The Crystal Palace has been the home of many important enterprises and the vast building and extensive grounds are well adapted to the purpose. The exhibition should tend to cement-friendly feelings between two great nations, and it will pravide an object lesson in the social and commercial developments which have norked the Kaiser's reign. "

DREADNOUGHTS SUPERSEDED.

The "Engineer," a technical paper of high reputation, in giving details of formidable and entirely new type of warship which is being constructed for the German Admiralty, makes a disclosure of supreme importance affecting the naval position of Great Britain. The design was first offered to the British Government, but, beyond a bare acknowledgment, no further action was taken. new type is described as speedier than any Dreadnought. It lies low in the water and it fights end on. The only target it presents to the enemy's fire is a bow shield sloping backward, and of such shape and thickness as to be virtually impenetrable. The vessel can keep the sea in all weathers and can fight effectively at the largest range. Twenty of these destroyers can be built for the cost of a single super-dreadnought and German naval experts hold that a first-class battleship must succumb if attacked by even five of such small craft. It is stated that profound secreey has been maintained in Germany concerning these warships for nearly four years. CHINA'S MONEY TROUBLES.

To those concerned in present conditions in China the "Standard" advised caution with regard to the lurid cables emanating just now from Peking. All the Total paid Policyholders 1910 same, this journal thinks that it would be desirable for some authoritative statement to be made as to the present positached to a speedy and satisfactory solution of the loan problem. H. M.S. TAMAR W. ROYAL ENGINEERS.

This game took place on the Hongkong Club ground on Saturday. Despite the Teams-H.M.S. Tamar -Turner : Harcourt, Lawrence; Mackay, Mees, Neilson, Frost, Burry, Smith, Laight, Hodgkinson. .. Royal Engineers-Rogers; Coxon, Morrish; Ferrigan, Scott, Collyer; Lowis; Brown, Pearson, Kelly, Sutherland. . Re-

ferce, Mr F. W. Eager. Smith kicked off for the sallors, the sappers from a throw down following an injury to Mackay, working through the sailors, Turner saving from Brown at the expense of a corner. A brief visit to the sappers end was stopped in clever fashion by Collyer who sent over to Lewis' whose centre found Pearson and Kelly offside, the litter netting an offside point. The salors were not adapting themselves as all well to the greaty turf and overplayed. A big kick by Mees relieved matters for the saliors and Laight and Smith were making headway when Morrish intervened, and Pearson secured, his pass to Sutherland provided the Fans. winger with a good opening but his shot was wide. Later receiving from Scott he shot finely only to see Turner bring off a good save, as he did again from Kelly, Brown ending the attack by heading behind. The sappers were soon pressing hotly again. Mackay headed out two good efforts and Lawrence performed valiantly at the left back for the sailors, whose forwards were not well together. Frost taised the hopes of the sailors with a good run and pass to Smith, but the ball was sent on to Hodgkinson who allowed it to roll to touch, losing a good chance. The sappers forwards, well backed up by the halves, were desperately anxious to score but the luck was against them, Berry dropped back in time to head away from Lewis and then Mees, who had come in for some hard knocks, retired for repairs but soon resumed, and at the interval the score was : --H. M. S. Tamar O, Royal Engineers O. .. Pearson restarted for the sappers, and a hot attack on the sailors goal was terminated by Harcourt who sent play well up the field and Laight and Smith were responsible for Hodgkinson going off on a thrilling run in which he bent the defence and was about to shoot when Morrish came across and robbed him, saving an almost certain goal. The sailors made another attemp", Hodgkinson skimming the bar with a scorcher; and then the sappers resumed their fight for the lead. Pearson, always on the look out for an opening, made a long run and beating off several attempts to dispossess him guided the ball past Turner who made a feeble attempt to save. From the kick off the sappers were eager to increase their lead and Brown nearly did the trick but Turner frustrated him. Turner again saved from Kelly and from a header by Renrson brought off a marvellous save, and lalso stopped a good attempt from Sutherland. From a corner the sappers made a fierce enslaught and Kelly scored the second goal with a rising shot, Turner being helpless. Still the sappers pressed, Scott headed in beautifully but Turner saved as he did from Pearson on several occasions, the sappers centre being the outstanding player of the game. Nearing the end the sailors made a tremendous rally, Smith put in a fine shot which Rogers deflected for a corner, and a little later Frost secured close in and gave for publication but as evidence of good Rogers no chance with his shot. Rogers faith saved again from Frost and the sailors who

A Natural Remedy

Time was when disease was thought to be due: to the direct influence of evil spirits, and exorcism and magic were invoked to cast it out.

Science has taught us wisdom. The evil spirits exist still. We call them "Disease Germs," and they also must be cast out. Once -lodged in the stomach or intestines, fever with its hallucinations, or biliousness with its aches and pains, is the result.

is the approved remedy for driving out disease germs. Its action is quick and thorough. It clears the intestines, rouses the torpid liver to new life, stimulates the mucous membrane to a healthy action, and cleanses and invigorates the whole digestive tract.

It may be safely taken at any time by young

It is very effective in the early stage of Diarrhaa by removing the irritating cause.

Be prepared for emergencies by always keping a bottle in the house.

SUICIDE OF AN OXFORD UNDERGRADUATE.

NOVEL EUTRANASIA TREORY. -An inquest was held at Exeter College Fowls, Canton,—Kai Oxford, recently, on Mr. S. A. Coher an exhibitioner of the college, who sho himself the previous evening in the presence of a friend. Mr. Ballerne, junior bursar of the college, said that the deceased came to Exeter College about 18 months ago. He was always reported as a hard reader, and was studying in the School of English Literature. There was nothing in his manner different from that of an ordinary -undergraduate. Mr H. B. Allpass, scholar of the college, said that he met the deceased at the Union Society's rooms the previous evening about ten minutes past eight, and Mr Cohen saked him to call in his rooms to see him. He went there, and had some conversation with him. About ten minutes later Mr Cohen got up from his chair and said that he wanted a cigarette-holder. The witness saw him go to this desk, take a pistol out of a drawer, and handle it for five minutes. He played about with it, pointing it to his forehead, and said: "I wish I had the courge to shoot myself." While standing in front of the fire the deceased suddenly but the pistol to his head and fired. He fell on the sofa, and the witness immediately informed the porter and summoned a doctor. The deceased had frequently talked to the effect that he wished he had the Carp, -Ii Yu courage to take his life. In reply to the coroner, the witness said that he thought the deceased was talking seriously when he bought the pistol about a fortnight ago. He then was very depressed, and made arrangements to kill himself that night. The witness then perwere happy. The witness did not tell anyone in the college of what took place when the deceased bought the pistol.

A letter from the deceased to his mother was submitted to the jury, but not read in public. The first paragraph stated that he considered one was justified in committing suicide when one was in a happy state. The jury, of which the rector of Exeter work that the decessed committed suicide whilst. Garoups, Sek Pan to comment on the accounts now before you I think some of you may expect me to briefly refer to the enquiry into the company's affairs which at the instigation of cortain shareholders, was carried on last autumn. This investigation resulted in certain changes in our administration which it is schiffdantly Thoped will be beneficial to the company, while as re garde but veryous which in some to spenie were regarded as unduly optimis tic, I have the authority of your auditors to state that in accordance with the Board's instructions very full and ample provision has been made in the accounts now before you for everything of a doubtful nature. Turning now to the report and balance sheet, while we show a loss world Japanese service in due course for the year, the actual result for that period, due regard being paid to the compotition which at present exists in our business, is not I think altogether discouraging. You will observe from the figures before you! that in making up the accounts for the year 1912 we have taken no credit for establishment, charges on work in progress, which, in a concern like show the following receipts and dis- ours, is a large item. We only decided to do this after careful deliberation and with a desire to be on the sale side: we have at he same time debited 1912 with some extraordinary expenses, a portion of which might justly have been born 1913. Otherwise the year taken by itself, after paying interest, would have shown a small net profit, of which 1918 will now get the benefit. We seem now to be feeling a reflection of the boom in shipbuilding at home and have a con siderable amount of new tonnage under construction at Kowloan. Enquiries for new ships are numerous and although Francisco (Pacific Mail Steamship prices obtainable are not very remunerative, still it is advisable to take a certain amount of this business to keep our Chineso workmen employed when repair work

VOLUNTEERS AT DINNER.

A PERABLET FUNCTION.

The annual dinner given by the Sergenate Mess of the Hongkong Volunteer Corps took place at the Volunteer Headquarters on Saturday night when a very large company gathered round the feative board under the genial Chairmanship of Regimental Sergt.-Major Walter Highy The appearance of the half had been entirely transformed by the use of decorative material, there being a copious arrangement of flags and bunting around the walls. Their omcers spent a great deal of time and gave up a good deal of their lelaure in assisting to make the corps what it was. The corps was as efficient now as it had ever been since Major Pritchard went away, the officers having held the men together. The sergeants were just as keen as the officers to make the corps as good as any in the world. The sergeants were supposed to be the backbone of regiment, but they could do little without the support of their officers. Considerable interest is being taken in the case both by the Japanese and Chinese community. The prisoners, who on account of the expected lengthiness of the trial were allowed to be seated in the dock, charged on two counts with forgery and conspiracy: Their names are Buichi Furukawa, Shikukichi o Ithtsu Xanagi Kotaro Kadaishi, Kelko Nagao, Rivato Nishigawa, Fukuzo, Sano, Ki, Nakasawa and Takas, Tanabe, alias Rono, Tanabe. The prosecution is being conducted by Mr. E. H. Sharpe, K. Co with whom are Mr. M. W. Slade, K.C., and Mr. Eldan Potter, instructed by Mr. F. B. L. Bowley, of Messrs. Dennys and Bowley; and the case having been taken at the instance of the Crown the Attorney-General, Hon-Mr. J. A. S. Bucknill, and the Crown Solicitor, Mr. J. H. Gardiner and Mr. Reader Harris of Messrs. Wilkinson and Grist.

POINTS OF LAW.

Mr. Alabaster raised two points of law before the defendants were asked to plead The first was a submission that as prisoners were committed to the February Sessions but were not tried they were entitled to their discharge. This was point which his Lordship was familiar with, counsel said, as he had argued is before, and if his Lordship ruled amins him he would not re-argue it.

His Lordship said he had nothing to add to what he had already said on this nubmission. Al Eller J. (2) Mills on Mr. Alabaster's second authorission was that the two last-mentioned desendants on the eridence for the prosecution could not have been guilty of conspiracy in the Colony. It could not be that these two lefendants were ever in the Colony commenced any conspiracy until after the ther defendants were arrested.

The Chief Justice said he was not supposed to know this, and after some further argument and reference to M Sharpe the point was not proceeded with

Mr. Jenkin said he also had a point I law to raise, but before he could proseed with it he would have to ask the prosecution a question. Was it not fact that the prosecution in this case was being conducted at the instance of the Revolutionary Government of China?

The Chief Justice said the indictment was in the name of the Attorney-General and the Court could not take any cognisance of any instructions he might have

Mr. Jenkin submitted that he was entitled to know, being prosecuted, who were his presecutors.

Mr. Sharpe: The Crown. Mr. Jenkin said that was the obvious answer but he wished to know if the but the volunteers knew that if there was prosecution was conducted at the instance of the Revolutionery Government of

Mr. Jenkin pointed out that it was important for him to know who the prosecutor was, as if the private prosecutor was a person without the jurisdiction of the Court he would have to consider what would be his position in case he wanted to obtain redress for malicious prosecu-

The Chief Justice said if any learned counsel got up and said he represented the Republican Government of China he would refused to recognise their locus standi. This had been recognised time after time in this Court.

Mr. Jonkin said he would like to know if Detective Inspector Collet, was paying the costs of the prosecution. (Laughter.) The Chief Justice observed that Mr. Jenkin's point might form the subject of fair comment to the jury or later on be dealt with in cross-examination. THE PROSECUTION'S CASE.

Mr. Sharpe, in his opening address, gave, an interesting account of the soners', connection with the alleged. value of the notes the case was one extraordinary gravity. Evidence would be given that a considerable number of the forged notes had been circulated. At the beginning of last year, he explained, the Government of Kwangtung was under a ceetain person named Chan King Ming who had as Commissioner of Finance one Li Yuk Tong and during the time they the Shanghai Commercial Press. Co tain characters, seals and numbers were posts. A conspiracy was entered into in June last year to forge imitations of these genuine notes, and it was consummated in Documber last by the arrival in Hongkong of six of the prisoners with notes which it would be proved were forged. duced in the Supreme Court this morning The other man was already at that time in he Colony. Prisoners also had in their possession imitations of the seals of the Commissioner of Finance. For some time before this, the prisoners had been working in connection with the conmiracy. It would be proved that some of them were looking after the manufacture of the notes in Japan from same plos of the genuine notes and serial numbers. Arrangements were made for their distribution by prisoners five and six who lived in Hongkong, and a man named Fung, who unfortunately could not be traced. "The Japanese headquarters were at the sliop of a photographer, Mumeya, who was the man-called Sano. The fifth prisoner was ostensibly employed there as a photographer, but he seemed to have spont his time going between Hongkong and Tapent rather than in photography. The Chinese ponepizator Eurg, lived as the premises of the Victoria Printing Press. D'Aguilar Street. There wert several other members of the gang. In November the Chinese authorities gos wind of the plot and put the matter in the hands of their chief detective, a man named Wong, who would be called, and also a police gent named Pang. They negotiated with the gang in order to accomplish their capture. Pang wsealready in Hongkong on December and Wong came immediately afterwards with a large sum of money to negotiate the purchase of forged notes from the conspirators. On December 17 prisoners one to five arrived in the Colony on the Kimano Maru bringing with them the first consignment of the forged notes and number five went to Mumeya's and the others to the Tokyo Hotel. There they were st first put into two reoms but after a time insisted upon being put into one room. They took with them to the hotel two heavy boxes, and conducted themselves there with great secreey, allowing nobody to enter their room without notice, and they were frequently visited by the other conspirators. There were constant meetings at the hotel between the conspirators and the Chinese police agents. On the day of the arrival of the Japanese on the steamer Pang went to the Victoria Press and saw the Chinese conspirator and at 6.30 p.m., acting on instructions Fung took the two Mumeys men to an address in Des Vœux Road. The fifth prisoner carried with him a parcel of forged notes which had been completed by the addition of the numbers and seals and prisoners five and six together sold these notes, the face value of which was $10,000, to Chinese. Later Fung took Pang to Mumeya's where they saw the fifth and sixth prisociers, and Fung was paid $850 for his share in the transaction; half of this sum he handed to Pang, the police agent. They gave Pang two more samples of notes and asked him to hurry up and find the man who said he would take a quarter of a million notes. This man was the detective Wong, so Pang took the notes to him. On the next day, December 20, Pang went with Fung to Wong and an appointment was made to complete the sale of the quarter of million in notes on the following day at a Chinese shop known as the Hop Hing close to the Sailors' Home. On December 21 the police agent, Fung and Wong again went to Mumeya's and informed the fifth and sixth defendants; that all was then ready. The fifth prisoner went to the Tokyo Hotel and then the whole six went together with the boxes containing the forged notes towards the Hop Hing, the boxes, which were too heavy to go in a ricksha, being carried by two coolies. A trap had been arranged in conjunction with the Hongkong Police to catch the men and the police were posted at the Hop Hing, where Wong was waiting with his money to buy the forged notes. Outside the shop Pang met the Chinese conspirator Fung who became frightened at sight of the police, and all the men waited in the street at the corner of Bonham Strand near the Canton steamer wharf. The police went slong from the Hoo Hing and arrested the whole gang, and they were taken to the

UNIONISTS AND TARIFF REFORM.

DISSENSION IN THE PARTY

LONDON, March 15. The Liberal newspapers are making a feature of the speech of Mr. Austen. Chamberlain on Thursday, his similar utterance yesterday evening, and the proceedings of the Tariff Reform League yesterday. They attribute the cone the remarks to the selection of an avow ed Freefooder, Colonel Weston, as candidate for the coming bye-election at

Mr. Henry Goulding, M.P., yesterday said that if he had a vote at Kendal he would not support "a back number" like Colonel Weston.

Mr. Austen Chamberlain, who was a guest at a dinner of the Tariff Reform League on Friday, said that the limit of compromise had been reached, and the whole party must accept the Edinburgh policy if the compromise was to endure. M. Chaplin said it was idle to pretend that there was peace in the party when there was no peace.

THE BRITISH NAVAL ESTIMATES.

"A SERIOUS MISTAKE,"

LONDON, March 15. The Times considers that the provision of only five battleships is a serious mistake, and could only be regarded as adequate on the assumption that either the New Zealand or the Malaya is retained in Home waters. As regards the Malaya, which will be of the same. design as that of the Queen Elizabeth, many delicate and far-reaching issues were involved, the handling of which should engage the close attention of Parliament. The Times doubtless refers to the recent official Paper showing that the Federated Malay - States Dreadnought was not spontaneously offered by the Sultans of the respective States, but was suggested from an official quarter.
